

Hasbro Named One of The Civic 50 Most Community-Minded Companies in the U.S

June 16, 2022

2021 Philanthropic Support Totaled More than $17 Million, Making a Positive Impact for Six Million Children and Adults Worldwide

Hasbro (NASDAQ: HAS), a global play and entertainment company, has been recognized as a 2021 honoree of The Civic 50 Most Community-Minded Companies in America by Points of Light, the world's largest organization dedicated to volunteer service. The Civic 50 honorees are companies with annual U.S. revenues of at least $1 billion and are selected based on four dimensions of corporate citizenship and social impact programs – investment, integration, institutionalization, and impact. This is the 10th consecutive year that Hasbro has received this recognition.

Hasbro has a long and proud legacy of making a positive impact within our communities. Through our giving, we support health and stability for children and families in crisis, provide equitable access to education, empower the next generation of storytellers through creative skill development and provide the Gift of Play through donations of toys and games around the world. In 2021, Hasbro's philanthropic support exceeded $17 million, including both financial contributions and donations of more than 750,000 toys and games. The Team Hasbro employee volunteer program, designed to provide opportunities for Hasbro employees to make a difference in the community, engaged 92% of employees worldwide in 2021. Together, Hasbro's philanthropy made a meaningful impact for more than six million children and adults around the world.

"Corporate leadership and commitment to civic engagement is critical for strengthening communities," said Natalye Paquin, president & CEO of Points of Light. "Our most recent global research shows 86 percent of people say they expect companies to take action on a social issue. Companies like Hasbro are leading the way and setting an example of how you can leverage your employee talent, business models and assets to create deep impact that drives transformational change."
