

Watch a Sneak Peek of New Candy Land Inspired Sweets Competition

November 10, 2020

Mark your calendar for the premiere of Candy Land on Sunday, Nov. 15 at 9|8c and follow the conversation using #CandyLand.

Premiering Sunday, Nov. 15 at 9|8c, each episode features the teams stepping into one of the eye-popping lands brought to life, including giant candy canes in Peppermint Forest, life-size gumdrops at Gumdrop Mountains, a real-life gingerbread house at Chocolate Mountain, enormous and luscious lollipops in Lollipop Woods, and lemons growing right off the vines in Lemon Lime Springs. The players must forage for flavors and unique ingredients within each land to use for their sugar masterpieces before presenting to judges Nacho Aguirre and Aarti Sequeira, who determine which teams advance down the board game path based on creativity, technical execution, and how well the candies of the land were incorporated. The first team to make it to King Kandy's Castle wins the game and earns the grand prize of $25,000.

Too excited to wait? You can catch a sneak peek here for a limited time.

CANDY LAND

Hosted by Kristin
Chenoweth

Series Premiere
November 15
at 9/8c on Food Network!

©2020 Hasbro

The promotional banner features a pink background with white illustrations of various candies like lollipops, gumdrops, and candy canes. The title 'CANDY LAND' is written in large, 3D letters that look like candy canes. To the right, the host's name and premiere information are listed in white and pink text. The bottom right corner contains the copyright notice.