Peppa Pig is breaking new ground with its first-ever animated special created specifically for parents. Following the viral success of Mummy Pig's pregnancy reveal on the Wave Original series *Not Gonna Lie with Kylie Kelce last year, Kylie and Mummy Pig reunite for a new adventure set in the world of Peppa Pig. Premiering Tuesday, August 11 on the Not Gonna Lie YouTube channel, the special explores the realities of modern parenting through heart and humor.

In the animated special, Kylie is reimagined as a kangaroo and welcomed into Peppa's world during a trip to the UK. While abroad, Mummy Pig and Kylie are treated to a well-deserved mums' getaway, filled with friendship, laughs and self-care. Jason Kelce also makes a special appearance as a Kodiak bear, joining Daddy Pig on kid duty and proving that keeping a house full of kids entertained is an adventure all its own.

Blending humor, heart and the relatable realities of parenthood, the special shines a light on an experience familiar to many families: balancing personal well-being with the responsibilities of raising children. Through the lens of Kylie and Mummy Pig's friendship, the story offers an honest and entertaining look at the support systems, small moments and shared experiences that help parents navigate modern family life.

"Peppa Pig has always done such a great job of telling stories that feel true to family life, which is one of the reasons we've loved it for so long. What really resonated with me about this story is that it explores something so many parents experience," said Kylie Kelce, podcast host and mom of four. "As your family grows, it's easy to put yourself at the bottom of the list while you're busy taking care of everyone else. I love that Mummy Pig reminds parents that making time for yourself isn't selfish, it's important. She approaches that journey with the same humor and heart that families have always connected with, and I think a lot of parents are going to see themselves in it. Getting to be part of that story was incredibly special."

This latest collaboration reflects the continued evolution of Peppa Pig's storytelling, expanding the brand's ability to connect with parents through content that reflects the realities, challenges and joys of modern family life. As Peppa Pig's first-ever animated special created specifically for adults, it opens the door for new ways to engage parents while continuing to tell authentic family stories that resonate across generations.

The animated episode will debut Tuesday, August 11 across Not Gonna Lie
